Together for All

Together for All is an initiative across all of the North East Lincolnshire schools, that has been developed in recent months.

To support the initiative an area is being developed within the Lincs2 website, through which CPD activities, events, news, local service information and teaching resources can be viewed and shared. The site will also include resources for all age groups relating to relationships, health and sex education.

Humber Outreach Programme

HOP – the Humber Outreach Programme – have been working with HE providers in the Humber region to deliver outreach programmes to young people across Hull, Scunthorpe, Grimsby and the East Riding. As part of Phase Two of the National Collaborative Outreach Programme (NCOP), HOP have been continuing delivery in the region while supporting local outreach provision. By working together with local providers, HOP are aiming to build a network of effective and impactful outreach for schools and colleges.

This year with a renewed focus on central team and partner delivery, HOP are designing a new core offer for schools. This new offer - paired with a robust Progression Framework, mapped against the NERUPI learning outcomes and Gatsby 8 - aims to provide schools with bespoke programmes to accurately suit the needs of both the school / college and the students, ensuring that young people are at the heart of the design and delivery of the programme. Alongside this, HOP are developing an online Hub to act as a central point of access for resources, contacts and more fantastic local outreach provision.

From the beginning of February, the NCOP brand will be known as 'Uni Connect'. This is part of the Office for Students' continued commitment to outreach. If you would like any further information then please contact Naomi Prendergast (Manager) at n.prendergast@hull.ac.uk.

CEC and Primary Schools

A huge welcome to the primary schools for this edition of the newsletter.

The Careers and Enterprise Company have been developing resources for primary education, and we have met with a few schools in NELC who are looking at what careers looks like for you.

A great source of information to support you with careers education is your secondary schools. All secondary schools have a designated Careers Leader whose role it is to develop a whole school approach to Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance (CEIAG). We are more than happy to introduce the primary schools to the Careers Leaders in your local secondary schools to support you in the development of your programmes.

We have launched a Primary School Toolkit on the Careers and Enterprise Company website: <https://www.careersandenterprise.co.uk/schools-colleges/primary-school-toolkit>

The NELC Careers Network termly meeting was led by Seafish UK and Seachill last term. Thank you to Lee Cooper and team for the insightful morning, which included a factory tour, fishmonger visit, insight into the frying process and a taster session.

The feedback was excellent, and we hope to run another similar session in the coming months, which hopefully your catering and hospitality tutors will also be able to attend.

Employability Passport

Andy Crossland from the Humber LEP attended a meeting in the autumn, to brief schools interested in the Employability Passport about the accreditation process with two accreditation panels provisionally planned for the spring and summer. Just to add that as the Employability Passport is located within the Lincs2 website, students using the passport must be at least 13 years of age, to enable a Lincs2 account to be set up.

The Passport has been endorsed by key local employers: ABP, Care Plus, DWP, Engie, Orsted, Seachill and NELC.
